

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF MISSISSIPPI
GREENVILLE DIVISION

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

PLAINTIFF

V.

NO. 4:23-CV-100-DMB-JMV

ALKIERAH KEE

DEFENDANT

ORDER

On May 30, 2023, the United States of America filed a complaint against Alkierah Kee in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Mississippi seeking “to recover treble damages and civil penalties under the False Claims Act (‘FCA’), ... civil penalties under the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act (‘FIRREA’), ... and ... money for common law or equitable causes of action for payment by mistake and unjust enrichment based upon Kee’s receipt of Paycheck Protection Program (‘PPP’) funds to which she was not entitled.” Doc. #1 at PageID 1. The complaint alleges that Kee, through false representations, received PPP loan proceeds totaling $41,666.00 (for which the Small Business Administration paid a total of $5,000.00 in processing fees to the financial institution involved). Id. at PageID 7.

On June 1, 2023, a “Joint Motion for Entry of Consent Judgment” was filed in which the parties represent that they “have agreed to resolve [this] litigation” and “to the entry of a Consent Judgment on the terms provided in the proposed Consent Judgment.” Doc. #4. Both the joint motion and the proposed consent judgment are signed by an Assistant United States Attorney and by Kee who appears pro se. Id. at PageID 17.

Generally, before entering a consent judgment, also called a consent decree, courts must decide whether it represents a reasonable factual and legal determination based on the facts of record, whether established by evidence, affidavit, or stipulation. Courts must also ascertain that the settlement is fair and that it does not violate the Constitution, statutes, or jurisprudence. In assessing the propriety of giving judicial imprimatur to the consent decree, the court must also consider the nature of the litigation and the purposes to be served by the decree.

Jones v. Gusman, 296 F.R.D. 416, 428–29 (E.D. La. 2013) (cleaned up).

The Court has reviewed the proposed consent judgment—which requires Kee to pay $46,666.00 plus interest and a separate $402.00 filing fee—and finds that it represents a fair and reasonable factual and legal determination based on the facts of record. The Court also concludes that the proposed consent judgment does not violate the Constitution, statutes, or jurisprudence. Finally, the proposed consent judgment is consistent with the nature of this litigation. Accordingly, the “Joint Motion for Entry of Consent Judgment” [4] is GRANTED. The Court will sign and enter the proposed consent judgment.

SO ORDERED, this 9th day of June, 2023.
